DASHBOARD

The Dashboard is the first screen you see when you log into the administration area of your website. The options for your website appear on the left side of the screen. These options will appear on the left side of the screen on any screen you are on.

Please note that the options detailed below may differ from what you see on your dashboard. Each website is customized for our clients and therefore will contain different menu items.

The screenshot shows the WordPress Dashboard interface. On the left is a dark sidebar menu with the following items: Dashboard (selected), Home, Updates, Akismet Stats, Posts, Events, Media, Pages, Comments, Disorders, TablePress, Genesis, Appearance, Plugins, Users, Tools, Settings, Custom Fields, Glossary Terms, and Security. The main content area is titled "Dashboard" and contains several widgets:

- At a Glance: Shows 16 Posts and 27 Pages. It also indicates that WordPress 3.8.1 is running and that Akismet is blocking spam.
- Activity: Lists "Recently Published" posts, including "Ask the Principal" (Feb 4th, 5:19 pm) and "Family Stories Post" (Jan 19th, 10:42 pm).
- Quick Draft: A form for creating a new draft with fields for Title and content, and a "Save Draft" button.
- WordPress News: A section with news items such as "WordPress 3.8.1 Maintenance Release" (January 23, 2014), "WPTavern: Big Performance Improvements Coming in BuddyPress 2.0", and "WordPress.tv: Hristo Chakarov: Choosing The Right JS Framework/Library/Toolkit".

FORMATTING OPTIONS

POSTS

This is the area where you add and edit blog/news posts. Hover over “Posts” in the dashboard to see all options, or click on the link.

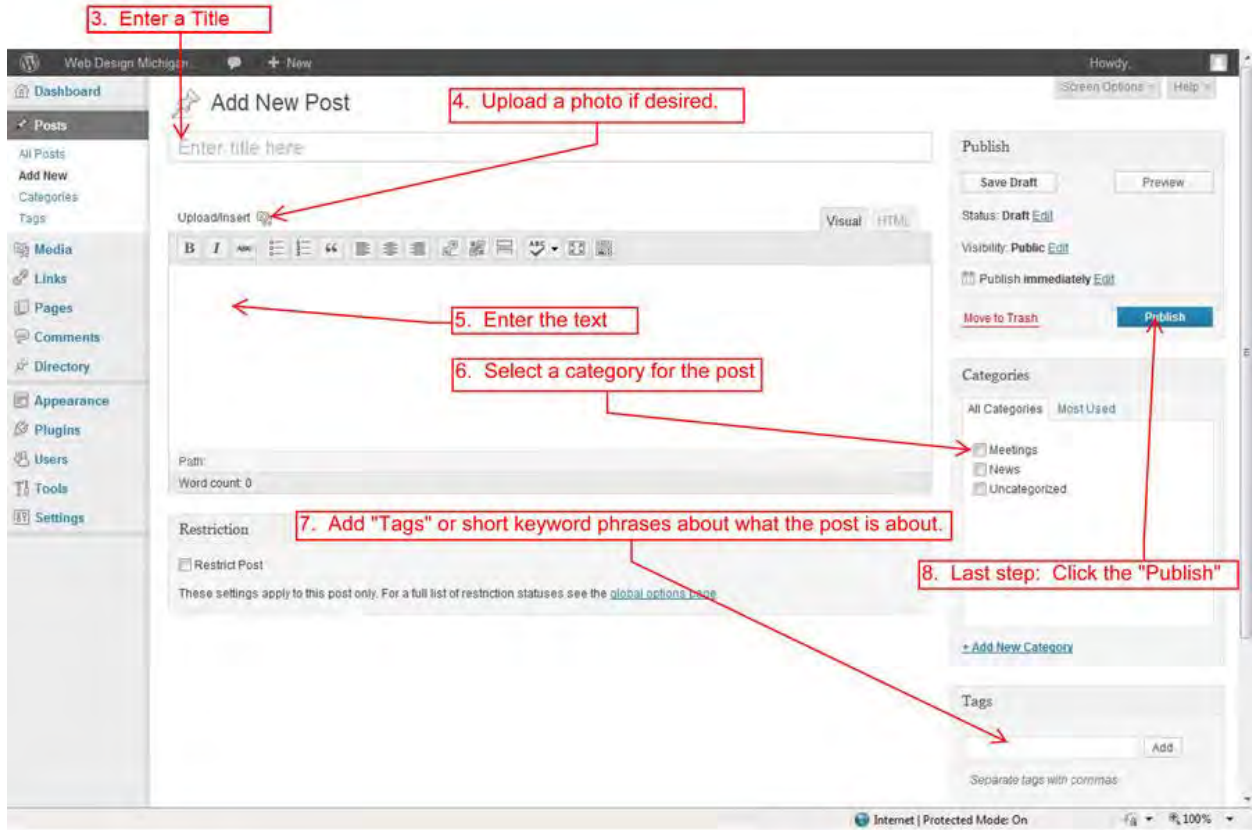

All Posts brings up a listing of all blog posts, both published and drafts. Here you can click on the post title to edit the content of the post.

From here you have the option to Edit, Quick Edit, Trash, View, Clone, or View Draft.

Add New to add a new post.

Name the post in the first box at the top of the screen. Put content into the large text box beneath. Here you have the option to Add Media, links, and format the text.

You can assign Categories and Tags to each blog post. Enter in the name of the Category or Tag and click the “Publish” button.

EVENTS

You can add events to your calendar using this area.

All Events shows a listing of all events, both published and future. Here you can click on the event title to edit the content of the post.

The screenshot shows the WordPress Events dashboard. A red arrow points to the "Add New" button with the text "Click here to add a new event to your calendar". Another red arrow points to the "List of Events" header above the event list.

Add New to add a new event. Enter event name in the first box at the top of the screen. Put content into the large text box beneath. Here you have the option to Add Media, links, and format the text.

You can assign Categories and Tags to each event. Enter in the name of the Category or Tag and click the "Publish" button.

MEDIA

The Media menu can be used to manage your existing media files, such as images, audio, videos, and documents. Any image or document that is inserted on a post, page, etc., will automatically be saved in the Media Library.

Add New to add image to the Media Library.

In the Edit screen, you can add a Caption, Alternative Text, and Description to the image.

PAGES

This is the area where you add and edit pages. Hover over “Pages” in the dashboard to see all options, or click on the link. This area is very similar to Posts.

All Pages brings up a listing of all pages, both published and drafts. Here you can click on the page title to edit the content of the page.

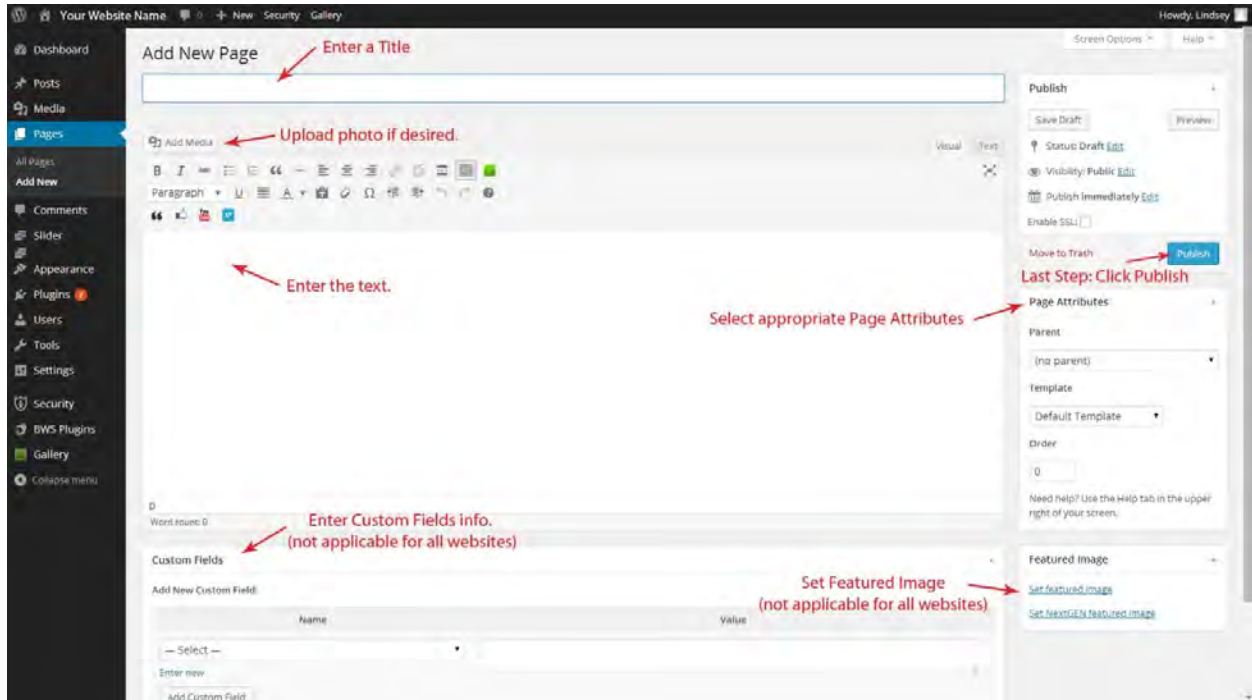

Add New to add a new page.

Name the page in the first box at the top of the screen. Put content into the large text box beneath. Here you have the option to Add Media, links, and format the text, just like with the Posts.

 Each site may have different options in this area. This is a general overview and your site may have different features available.

After you add a Page to your site, you will need to add it to the menu structure. Please refer to the Appearance section of this manual for instructions.

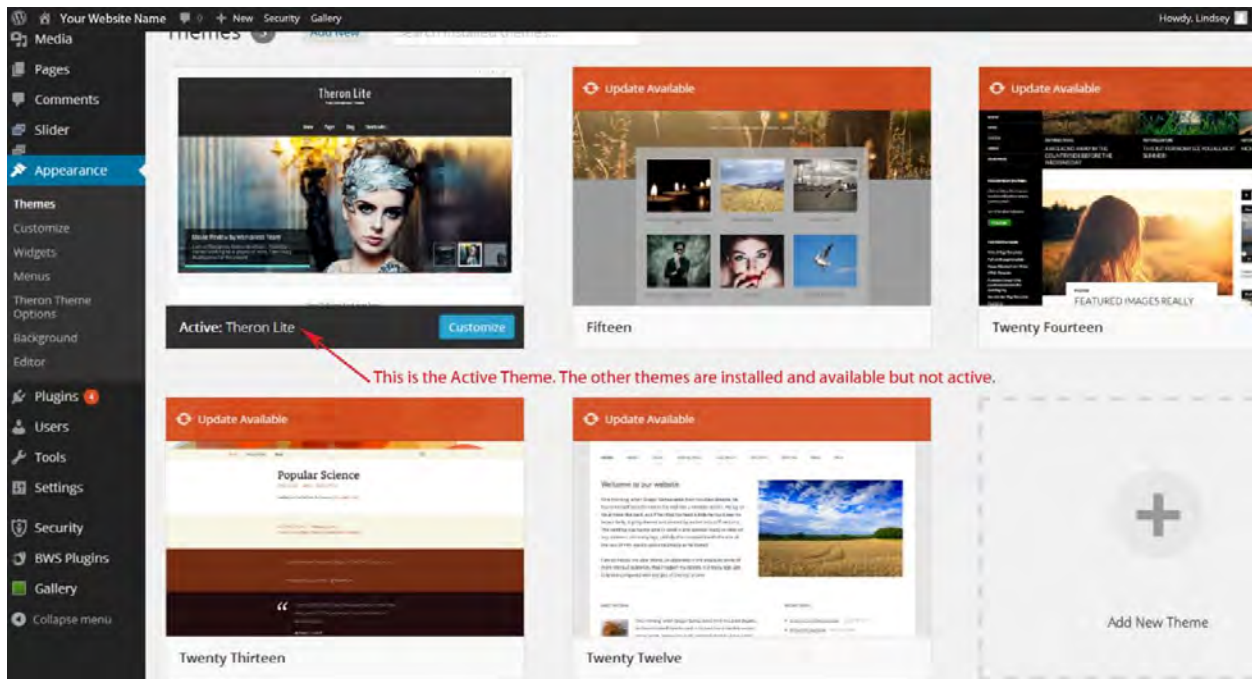

APPEARANCE

There are many options under Appearance.

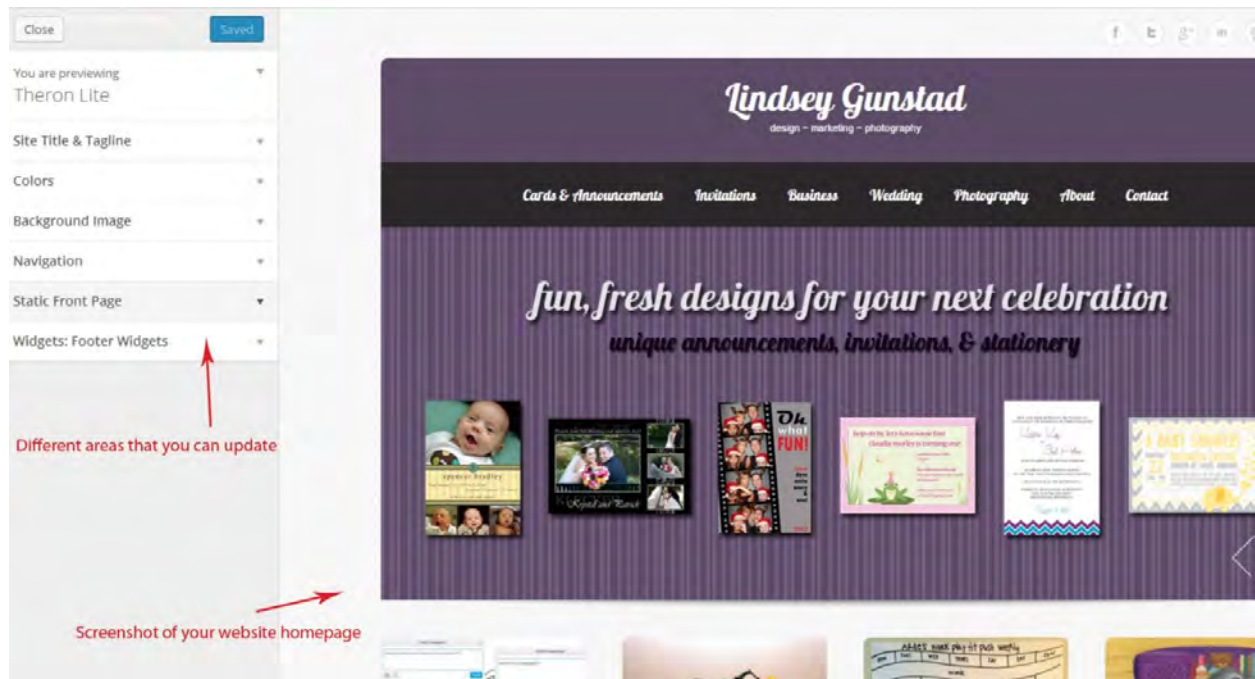

THEMES

This area shows the active and active themes. Changing the theme will change the entire look of your site and require customization. It is not advised that you change the theme without first checking with Blindspot.

CUSTOMIZE

This area will vary depending on your site. Here you can change your website's title and tagline, colors, background image, etc.

If you make changes, click the blue Save button, then the Close button.

WIDGETS

Widgets will vary greatly from site to site depending on your site's design.

Available widgets appear on the left side of the screen.

Active widgets appear on the right side of the screen.

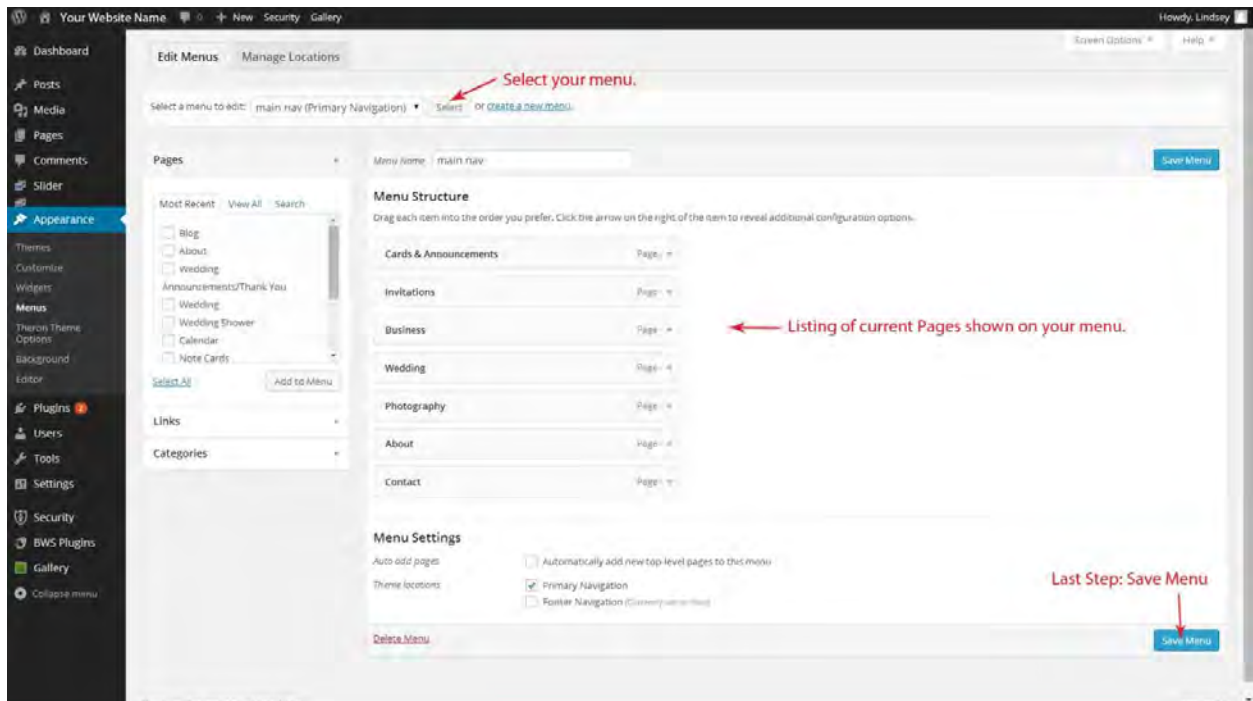

To add new widgets, you simply drag the widget tile from the left side to the right side of the screen. You can reorder the widgets by dragging the widget tiles to the desired order.

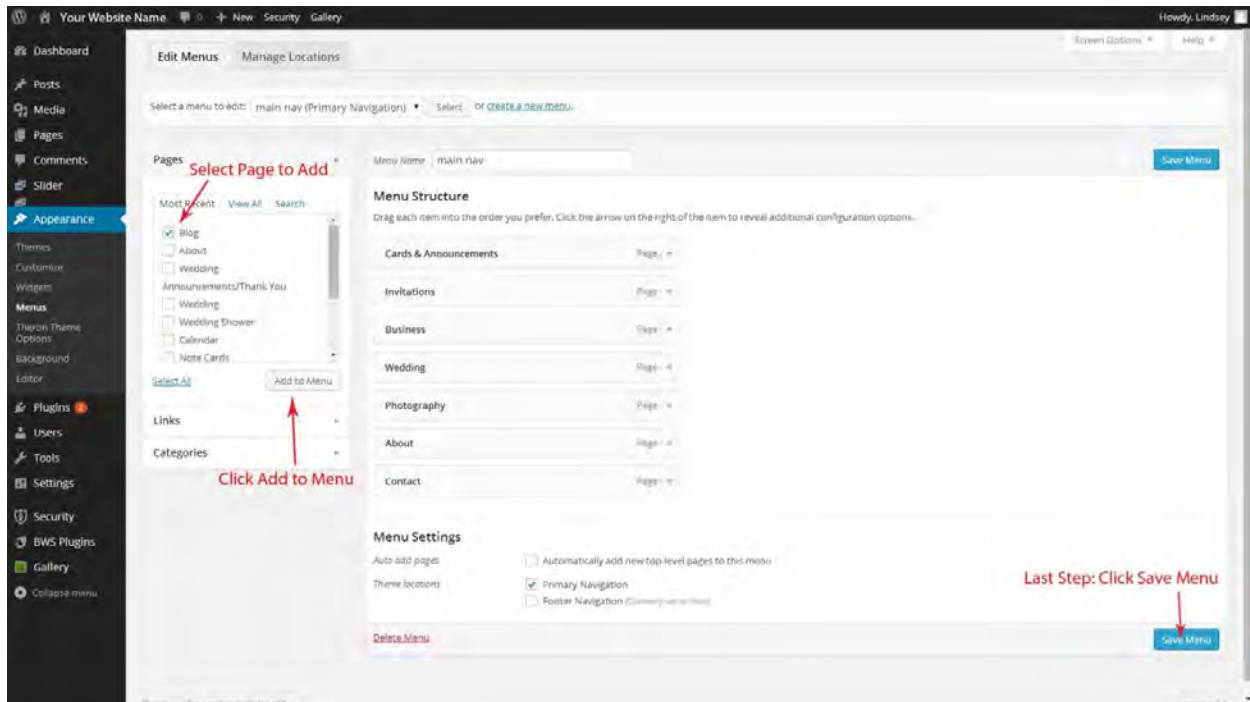

MENUS

This is where you add your pages to the menu structure of the site. You first need to create the Page, and then add it to the Menu.

First, select which menu you want to make changes to. There are typically two menu options, the Main Menu (which appears at the top of your site), and the Footer Menu (appears at the bottom of your site).

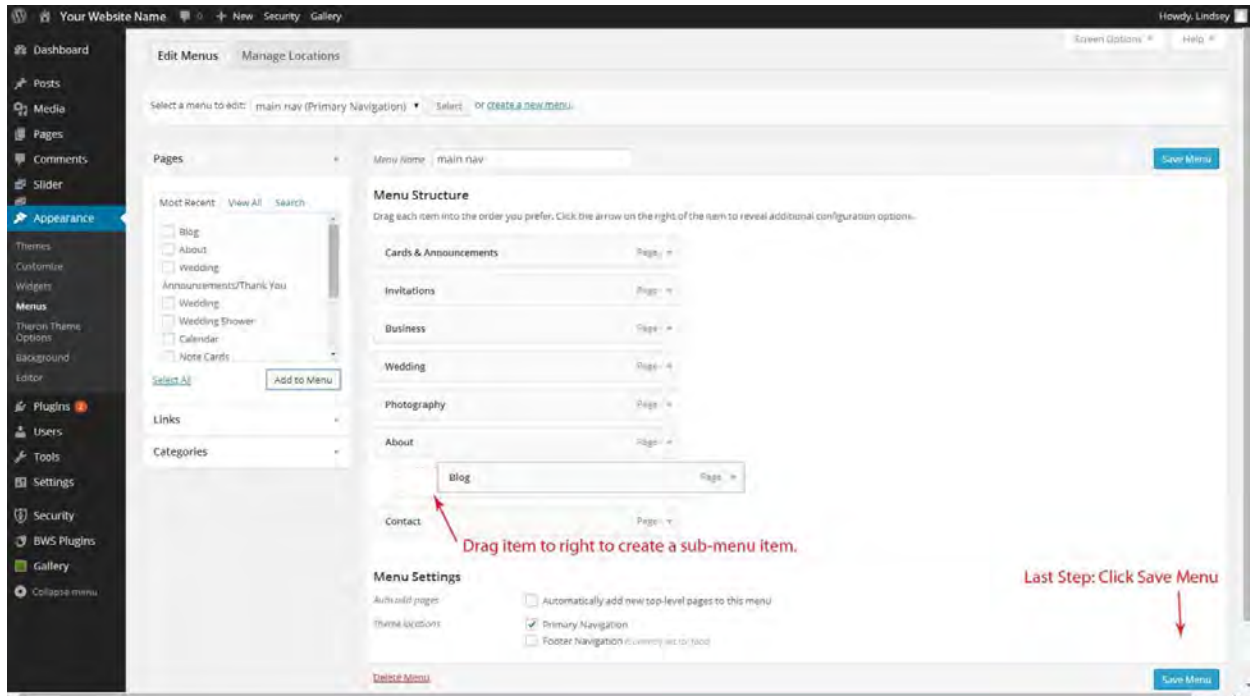

To add a new page to your menu, check the box next to the page you wish to add. Then click Add To Menu.

The new page will appear under the Menu Structure. You can reorder the menu items simply by dragging them into the order you prefer.

You can also create Sub-Menu Navigation by dragging a menu item to the right until it is indented.

Click the arrow to the right of the item for additional configuration options.

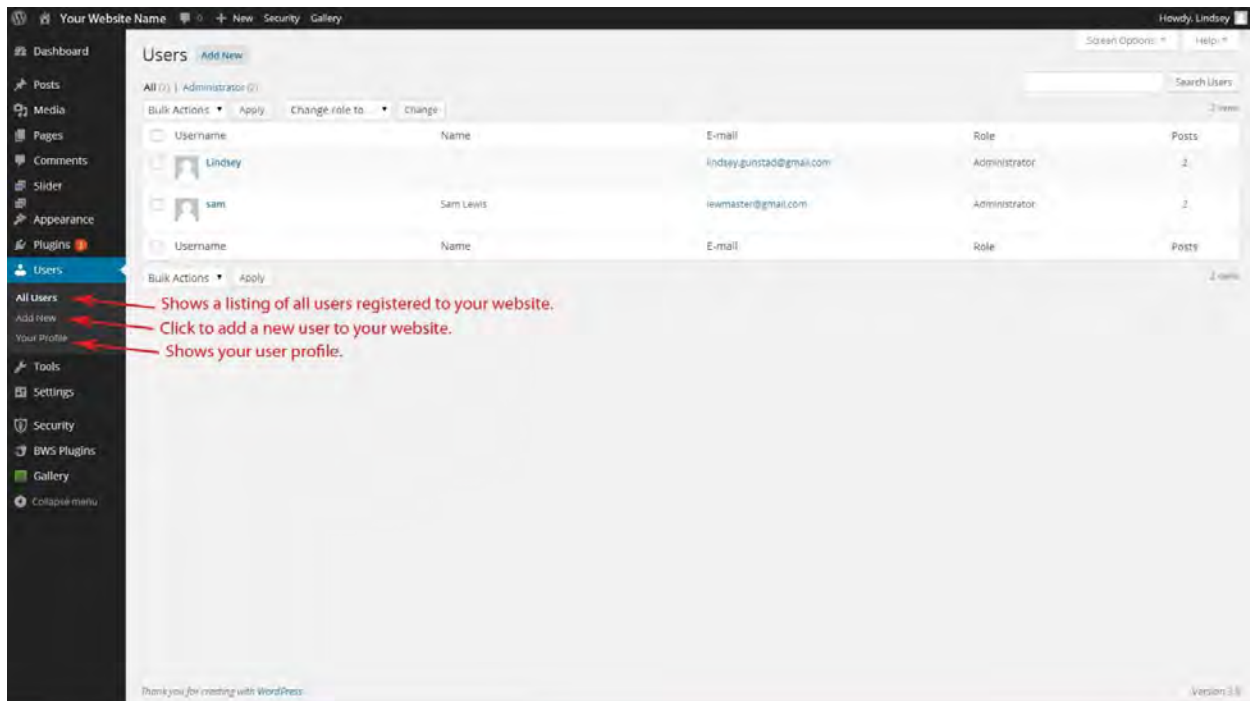

PLUGINS

The Plugin area is where you can view a listing of active and inactive plugins on your site. You can update existing and download new plugins.

USERS

This is where you add or delete Users from your website.

The screenshot shows the WordPress Users management interface. The main content area displays a table of users:

Username	Name	E-mail	Role	Posts
Lindsey		lindsey.gunstad@gmail.com	Administrator	2
sam	Sam Lewis	lewmaster@gmail.com	Administrator	2

Red arrows in the sidebar point to the following links with the following text:

- All Users: Shows a listing of all users registered to your website.
- Add New: Click to add a new user to your website.
- Your Profile: Shows your user profile.

To Add a New User, click on “Add New” link. On this screen you will fill in the information about the new user, including name, email, and password. You will also assign the new user a Role, meaning how much access this person will have to the site.

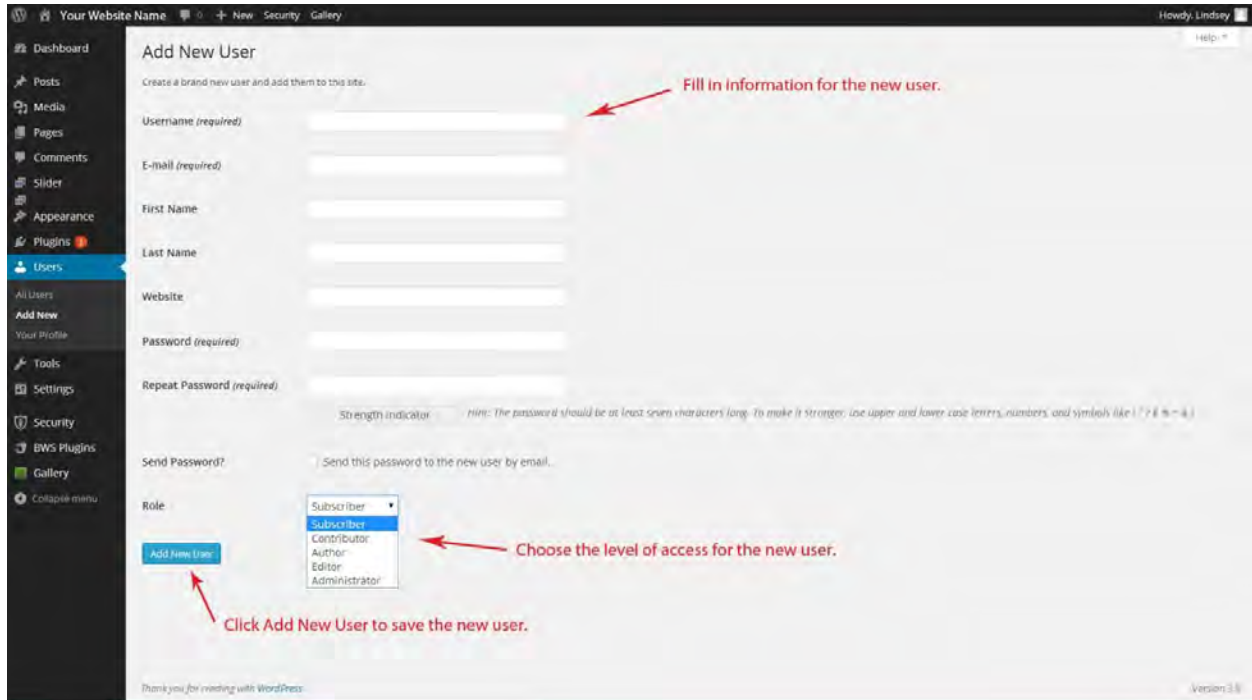

Subscriber: somebody who can only manage their profile.

Contributor: somebody who can write and manage their own posts but cannot publish them.

Author: somebody who can publish and manage their own posts.

Editor: somebody who can publish and manage posts including the posts of other users.

Administrator: somebody who has access to all the administration features within a single site.
